

NETHERBURN F FARMS DISPERSAL SALE

These and 53 others like them are selling in this sale at

MALTON, ONTARIO

Saturday, September 3 1955

Foreword

This dispersal of a large and a top herd of Shorthorns which has been assembled after approximately 30 years of careful planning, is not an action which is taken without regret. The late A. P. Hart, M.D., was a prominent physician and surgeon in Toronto, Ontario; he commenced the breeding of Shorthorns with those same high ideals for accomplishment which carried him to the peak in his own profession.

The Netherburn herd has been forward at the leading shows in eastern Canada for a great number of years, particularly at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair and the Canadian National Exhibition. At these events the cattle always could be depended upon to give a good account of themselves.

Anyone who had a close association with Dr. Hart knew that he never allowed the top females of his herd to leave, no matter how enticing the offers were. He was motivated with a long range objective to build permanently and well and thereby pass along as part of his heritage a great herd of Shorthorn cattle to someone else. It is of course, such thinking and such planning that has given the Shorthorn breed its greatest breed builders down through the years. However, fate does not tarry and plans go astray; in this connection Dr. Hart passed away suddenly, also just at this time a great expansion of the Federal Government owned airport at Malton was undertaken. The extensive acreage of Netherburn Farms cut straight across the new miles of planned landing strips and the choicest acres were taken over by the Government. The shock at the sudden passing of the guiding hand plus the loss of the greatest part of the productive Netherburn farm lands, resulted in a decision of the family to disperse the herd rather than locate somewhere else in Ontario.

In all this however, there is one great advantage, this complete dispersal sale will give others a chance to pick up the results of years of constructive herd building and planning.

The senior herd sire Lawton Roderick Dhu by Calrossie Welcome is one of the great bulls of the breed in Canada today. His place at the head of this herd is current factual evidence of the progressiveness always evident in the breeding operations at Netherburn Farms. Truly a good herd of Shorthorns will be sold without reserve.

A Word from Sale Manager

Having lived a short distance from the Netherburn Farms Shorthorn herd since its beginning nearly 20 years ago, it has been my opportunity to watch its progress up to present time. The late Dr. A. P. Hart in establishing a herd of Shorthorns had some very definite plans. His first objective was to build one of the strongest herds of the breed. Despite many attractive offers he would never sell his best half dozen heifers, but retained them for replacements and the improving of his herd. Such a breed building program in itself is very commendable. Each year he would buy a top female or two to bolster this program of herd improvement.

Not only did he pay particular attention to breeding herd, but an outstanding sire was always a must towards the goal he wished to attain. With this thought in mind in 1952 he commissioned me to purchase a bull which in my opinion would best serve his interests and work improvement for the breed in general. At Perth, Scotland, that year I selected the present Herd Sire Lawton Roderick Dhu. I regarded him then, and still do as an extremely well-balanced bull with lots of size and bone, tremendous substance, yet smooth and full of style and character. Further enhancing my approval of the bull was the fact that his maternal brothers Calrossie Good News and Calrossie Formula were both Perth Class winners before being sold to Capt. A. M. Talbot Fletcher, and W. J. Russell respectively at very high prices.

It is my sincere feeling that any prospective breeder of Shorthorns could start at the top in the business if he were to buy this Herd Sire and 10 of the best females offered in this dispersion.

Whether in the market for cattle or not, plan to be with us Sale Day. You will see one of the best bulls of the breed sell, along with 53 female lots that are a great tribute to the fine gentleman, whose death makes this dispersion necessary.

REFORD W. GARDHOUSE,
